

Clinical Psychology Faculty Opening

The Department of Psychology at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI) invites applications for a tenure-track position in CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY (open rank) to begin August 2010. Our APA-accredited PhD clinical psychology program adheres to the scientist-practitioner model and focuses on severe mental illness and chronic health conditions. We seek applicants in any area of psychiatric rehabilitation and/or health psychology. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain an active, externally-funded research program and to contribute to graduate and undergraduate education. Applicants at the Associate or Full Professor level must have a demonstrated record of research excellence, a history of external funding, and a strong record of mentoring trainees. Salary and startup funds are competitive. Tenure may be offered to senior candidates, depending on the candidate's qualifications. For all hires, a reduced initial teaching load is provided.

The Department has 25 full-time faculty, 500 undergraduate majors, and approximately 60 graduate students enrolled in programs in Industrial/Organizational (M.S.), Clinical (Ph.D.), and Psychobiology of Addictions (Ph.D.). Additional information about the department and the clinical psychology program may be found at www.psych.iupui.edu. IUPUI is one of the top 15 American universities to watch according to U.S. News and World Report and is a campus renowned for service learning and civic engagement. It is also Indiana's premier urban public research institution, with more than 200 degree programs enrolling over 30,000 students (www.iupui.edu) and is the home campus for statewide programs in the health and life sciences (<http://lifesciences.iu.edu>). The campus includes programs in the arts and sciences, medicine, nursing, dentistry, and law. Cooperative research and clinical opportunities are encouraged both within the School of Science, and with other units of the University including the School of Medicine, teaching hospitals on campus, and with a variety of health-care and mental-health care facilities in central Indiana. IUPUI is located near downtown Indianapolis, the seat of state government and the twelfth largest city in the United States. The city uniquely combines the cultural amenities of urban life with the residential qualities of smaller communities, and at the same time is highly affordable.

Applications from women and from minority candidates are strongly encouraged. IUPUI is an AA/EEO employer and is aggressively recruiting minority and female applicants to bring greater diversity to its workforce.

Applicants should send electronic copies of a cover letter, a vita, research and teaching statements, and up to three representative publications to Dr. John McGrew at psychsc@iupui.edu. Three reference letters should be sent separately either electronically using the same email address or via US mail to John McGrew, Chair, Clinical Search Committee, Department of Psychology, IUPUI, 402 N. Blackford St., LD 124, Indianapolis, IN 46202-3275. Review of the applications will begin on November 1, 2009 and continue until the position is filled.
